ISSUES FOR ROUND TABLES

Climate change and political counteraction.

Is there a real, shared political goodwill to fight global warming, or are announced policies nothing but political propaganda? Have political agreements (e.g. Kyoto protocol; EU 20-20-20 climate change package; Copenhagen U.N. climate change conference) been successful?

Ethical consumerism and right to food.

“Everyone on the planet should have access to healthy, safe and sufficient food.” (Expo Milan 2015). How can this goal be reached?

Resources distribution and equity between developed and developing countries.

Is it possible to reach an equal distribution of resources between developed and developing countries? Which tools have proven effective?

Government activism vs. laissez faire.

The global crisis in 2009 has triggered a steep rise in state intervention in the economy, as many banking giants have been rescued from bankruptcy with public money. To what extent should a democratic government intervene in the economy in times of crisis?

Freedom of movement and migrants' rights.

How should developed Countries deal with immigration? Should migrants be seen just as workforce or should their mobility right be respected? Which is the best way to deal with refugees? How should illegal immigration be faced?

Migrants' 'second generations': which identity?

How should a State deal with the problem of 'second generations'?
